THE LAW CONSTITUTIONAL. Colored People Have Rights to Hold and Bequeath Property.

In the Court in General Term to-day the case of Milly Thomas against William F. Holtzman, involving the validity of stave marriages in Maryland, where no ceremony was performed, was decided. The original action was for ejectment to recover property on Third street near G, and the heirs of Milly Thomas had, after her death, continued the suit, asking for accounting, etc.

The defense claimed that they had no rights as heirs of Milly Thomas, on the ground that the law legitimatizing the issue of colored people was unconstitu-tional, denying to the whites equal ad-vantages with the blacks.

The opinion of the Court, delivered by Justice Merrick, characterized the law wise, proper, humane and just. the plaintiffs, upon showing that they were the issue of Milly Thomas when the latter was living in the relation of a wife, they were entitled to the property.

A Dispute About Moving Type. Howard G. Douglass has applied to the court for an injunction to prevent James C. Wright and Charles H. Van Buren, doing business as printers, from removing type and other printer's materials belonging to him, and which they rented from room 108 Corcoran

NOT TO END SOON. Prospects That the Fence War Will Continue for Sometime The fence war at Le Droit Park has not yet ended, and from present indications it is not likely to end very soon. David Washington, the special policeman at the Park, has just been tried by the Police Trial Board on a charge of preventing citizens from entering the gates of the The charge was brought by Mrs. Uriah Dailey, who lives in Howardtown. She swore that while attempting to drive through the Maple avenue gate her norse was stopped by Washington. The people in Howardtown have recently been able to pass through the park by entering at the opening in the fence on Elm street and passing over the lots of Charles E. Banes, which have signs up telling them that they have such permission. The through the Maple avenue gate her horse that they have such permission. What Three Witnesses Testified in a Recent Divorce Cuse.

Last October Clara A. Beale sued for divorce from Edward M. Beale. Testimony was taken by commission and Florence Jewett, alias Sarah Thompson. swore that one day while Mrs. Beale was away she was criminally intimate with | traffic that lady's husband. Sarah Hawkins, Mrs. Beale's servant girl, also testified that one night Mr. Beale brought this same Florence Jewett in, turned down the lamp and they laid down on a big rug right in front of Sarah.

A negro man named Turpin also testi-fied to seeing Mr. Beale and Florence together. It now appears that at the time all this is said to have happened Florence was in the Albany peniten-tiary. All three of these negroes were arrested yesterday on charges of perjury and the cases will come up in the Police Court to-morrow.

A Watchman Arrested for Theft, For a long time Saks & Co., the clothing dealers, whose store is located on Seventh street, have been suspecting the theft of numerous articles of clothing from their store. The thefts have been in small quantities and distributed over about a year, but the aggregate is something like $1,000. On Saturday night Detectives Horne and Raif arrested Thomas Bivins, an aged white man, a respected distance of the state of the same and the same citizen of Uniontown, who was emyloyed by Saks & Co. as a night watchman, for the thleving.

Saturday some goods bearing Saks & Co.'s private mark were found in the room of a negress on Armory street, and she said that Thomas Bivins had given them to her. When Mr. Bivins was taken before the negress he said he didn't know her and denied that she was his mistress. He was locked up in the South Washington Station-house and will be tried to-morrow.

Trouble Between Piemen, Piebaker Feldmyer and Piebaker Leinbach, fellow employes, in the Connecticut Pie Company's factory in Georgetown, quarreled Saturday and Lembach was whipped. Yesterday he got a razor, and, after drinking a consider able quantity of whisky to nerve himself, he said he was going to cut the victorious fellow pichaker's heart out. Feldmyer had him arrested for threats, and in the Police Court this morning the case was dismissed.

ALTOGETHER TOO CLEVER. The Young Man Who Tried to Play Com edy on a Street Car. From the Boston Budget,

You may have been a passenger on a horse car at a time when someone picked up a coin off the cushion or from the straw, and anxiously inquired for an owner. At such a time every man instinctively feels in his pockets, Every man feels like saying that he is the lucky but an inward voice someho party, but an inward voice sometow restrains him. The money is invariably pocketed by the finder, and he is set down, in the opinion of his fellow pas-sengers, as contemptible and mean.

On a South Boston car a young man purposely dropped a silver piece on the floor, and at a proper moment he picked it up and observed, "Who lost this quar-ter?" Everyone looked at him and every mouth watered. "Did any one drop this?" continued the young man, as drop this?" continued the young man, as he held it up. There was another embarrassing pause. Then a burly man reached out for it with the remark, "I dropped it, master. You are a gentleman to return it." "Are you sure you dropped it?" "I am. I am not a liar." "But you see—you—" "You give me my hard-earned money or I'll wring your neck," interrupted the other, as he reached out for his victim. The young man gave it up. He looked white, and red, and green, and he felt so bad over it that he soon dropped off the car and took that he soon dropped off the car and took to the sidewalk.

LAST NIGHT'S BLIZZARD.

Wind Blowing 80 Miles an Hour-The First Snow of the Season, A severe storm raged throughout New York State and New England yesterday and last night with the prospect of conavenues and streets are white to-day, Following are some of the storm reports:

At Rutland, Vt., the fall of snow has been three inches: at Bangor, Me., seven inches, and at Concord, N. H., six inches. Much damage has been done on the north shore.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 26.—Snow fell to the depth of five inches yesterday at Springfield, followed by hall and is so solidly packed as to impede traffic. Wires are down and communication nearly sus-pended. Passenger trains are from one to three hours late, and freight trains have been taken off.

The storm at Gioncester was the heavi-est since the blizzard last March. Telegraphic communication was nearly cut off. It is reported that two unknown Schooners have been dashed on Norman's Woe, and that only one of the men aboard has thus far been rescued. The coaster Medford was wrecked in the harbor by the brig Alice being driven

The Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Railroad was badly washed out midway between the Narrow Guage Hotel and the Point of Pines, stopping through At Crescent Beach several cottages have been undermined, and some of the hotels threatened. The Winthrop shores have felt the force of the storms, and a number of buildings between Point Shir-ley and Winthrop have been demolished. A washout on the Winthrop & Shore Railroad prevented the running of trains. The storm is the worst ever known on this part of the North Shore, and danger is feared from the incoming tide. The wind reached fifty-one miles an hour yesterday at New Haven, the highest velocity ever recorded here, and several inches of snow fell. Travel on the Shore Line was stopped by the breaking of the drawbridge at Lyme. Many vessels have put in at New Haven for shelter.

At Block Island the wind blew eighty

It came down lively all day and did not cease until evening had set in. About 2:30 in the afternoon the wind was at its height, going at the rate of thirty miles an hour. At the signal service office it was said the storm would not last throughout the night.

The mercury registered 31 degrees at 6 a.m., the same at 12 m., 30 degrees at 330 p. m., at 28 degrees at midnight. Average temperature, 30\(\frac{1}{2}\) degrees; average temperature same day last year, 47\(\frac{1}{2}\) degrees. BEN HOLLADAY'S ESTATE. Widow Fighting for an Increased Allowance of the Little Left,

From the New York World.
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 23.—The division of the estate of Ben Holladay, the founder of the Trans-Continental Pony Express, and the pioneer stage-coach and steamship man of the Pacific coast, is causing trouble. Recently the Court appointed appraisers to fix the valuation of the estate, but Joe Holladay, Ben's brother, who is executor, refused to give them anyoinformation on Then Mrs. Holladay filed a petition asking the court to compet him to pay arrears amounting to $3,000 on her monthly allowance, and to require him to submit the property to supersiement.

the property to appraisement, Joe Holiaday came forward with an answer, denying that Ben Holladay died possessed of property worth $150,000, and asserting that at the time of his leath he did not have the means to pay the expenses of his last sickness and funeral. Joe Holladay also accuses Mrs. Holladay and her legal advisers of conspiring to embarass his management of the estate, and says that Mrs. Holladay is not in need of money to support her-self and her children, and that by economy she can get along nicely on $300 a month. He also declares that if he is forced to sell property to pay the in-debtedness, enough cannot be realized to pay claims due and presented, amounting to more than $76,000.

Mr. Holladay's daughter, Jenny Lind Mr. Holladay's daughter, senny Linu Holladay, was married to Count Arthur Pourtales, who is now French Consul at Newcastle. A gentleman in Brussels has shown unusual enthusiasm for the game of whist. In the tracedian, John McCollough, will take place Mount Moriah Cemetery, near Philadelphia.

The committee having in charge the ceremonies is composed of John W. Mackaye, William M. Conner, William F. Johnson, W. J. Florence, John B. Carson and William H. Thomson. They have issued 1,500 invitations and a special train will convey the invited guests to the cemetery.

A PARAGON OF UTILITY. The "Lord Chamley" Cape Ulster.

Every one we sell introduces it and us to new friends; society men, business men, physicians, clergymen, lawyers, all find it exactly "the ticket." Wear it to the man's wardrobe to a single garment. No, the "Chumley" Ulster is not a patent night-robe, although it might on a pinch, and it doubtless will, sometimes, be made to do such humble service.

We have a variety of Cape Ulsters for Men and Boys; of overcoats--the subject really demands more space than we have left in this article.

him. It was a new part for him to piay. He looked at the judge; the judge stared at him. 'Your name, sir,' said the judge, with infinite dignity. Sheridan spoke up: 'Philip H. Sheridan.' 'In what State do you vote?' askell the judge, impressively.' 'In Ohio,' Sheridan replied. 'In what county?' Perry County.' Then came the difficult question: 'In what ward or township, sir?' asked the judge, with solemnity. 'My father lives in Rending township,' Sheridan replied, in an embarrassed way, for it was all parts to be.

enthusiasm for the game of whist. In the course of a game his partner trumped the trick which he had already won by deep calculation and skill. Instead of swearing, as a gentleman would ordinarily have done in such circumstances a few times, he gave his unlucky partner twenty stabs in the ribs with a long knife and left aim dead. This didn't cool his ardor for the game, for later in the evening he was found quietly playing in another cafe with some other triends. When his second partner learned the facts he expressed great satisfaction that the game should have been interrupted by the police.

CRAWFORD SHOE SOLD DIRECT TO THE CONSUMEB 903 PENNA, AVE.

WOODWARD & LOTHROP. CHILDREN'S GARMENTS.

Exclusive styles in Children's Suite, made up in a superior manner of the finest of this season's fabrics. Never before were the styles so unique, attractive and becoming, and we believe you will admit, after looking through this stock, that it pays to buy them ready-made. We can sell you an excellent suit for children 4, 5, 6 and 8 years of age as low as $5, and from this price we go, with frequent stops, up to $18.

What we have said about the Children's Suits is equally applicable to Misses. You will be surprised at the excellent taste displayed in the draping and finishing of these dresses, while the work would be no discredit to any firstclass dressmaker in this city.

CHILDREN'S AND MISSES' CLOAKS. We have again added to this already large stock, and we believe our present line has no conal hereabouts. Many of the styles closely follow those now prevalling in the Ladies' Long Garments, and we invite your carly inspection.
